

You Are My Whole World

By Christina Ruiz

I fell in love with you, not because I was bored
And needed somebody. Not because I missed the Attention. Not because I felt like it... But because You gave me a reason to feel loved again. Every time
I looked at you, I pictured my while live with you and What true love looked like. I want stupid fights and
The endless laughs. I don't want that with just anyone,
I want that and those memories with you. So please don't Ever think that you're just someone to me, You're my whole life.
I love you.
